Given all that is going on at the moment, we thought it would be nice to share some humour with you all. If you have some that you would like to share please let us know and we will add them to the rest (on the condition they pass the editorial team scrutiny, though we can't guarantee that you will find them funny).

I changed my iPod's name to Titanic It's syncing now.

To write with a broken pencil is pointless.

Haunted French pancakes give me the crepes.

England has no kidney bank, but it does have a Liverpool.

I'm reading a book about anti-gravity. I just can't put it down.

This girl today said she recognised me from the Vegetarians Club, but I'd swear I've never met herbivore.

According to Greek mythology, Chiron was a half horse, half human doctor.

This made him the Centaur for Disease Control.
